MRS. MEADOWS FALLS VICTIM TO FULTON SCANDAL

Woman's Husband Charged Preacher With Alienating Her Affections.

Believed That Young Man of Clinton Was Murdered.

OHIO COUNTY MAN WARNED

Fulton, Ky., April 21.—After an illness extending over a period of more than a year, Mrs. Lulu Meadows, wife of W. W. Meadows, of this city, breathed her last in St. Luke's hospital at St. Louis, where she had been a patient since leaving Fulton last summer. Her father, A. T. Mitchell, was at her bedside at death. The attending physicians of that institution say that the disease, softening of the brain, which resulted in death this morning, had been preying upon her for a number of years. The message bearing the sad tidings was received by Mr. Meadows this morning who left for St. Louis on the first train, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Mary.

The remains will be sent to North Middletown, Ky., for interment, as the deceased had a number of times expressed a desire to be buried there.

Mrs. Meadows will be remembered to the women in the Meadows-Hawley case, in which the husband accused the Rev. Frank Hawley of alienating Mrs. Meadows' affections. Counter suits for $100,000 damages were entered and compromised. The scandal is considered responsible for Mrs. Meadows' death.

Tom White Not Found.

Clinton, Ky., April 21.—Tom White, the young man who mysteriously disappeared in Hickman county ten days ago, leaving his young wife and child in their pretty country home between Crutched and Clinton, has not been located yet and all search for the missing man has been in vain. His wife and relatives now fear that he has been murdered and his body hidden. It is well known that he had quite a sum of money on his person the morning he disappeared. The day before he sold a fine pair of horses to Woodford Hing and Tom Drowry, at Clinton, for which he received $400. It is understood that he was to deposit the money with another large sum at Moscow the next day, and it was between his home and Moscow that it is believed he met with foul play. Mr. White, father of the young man, who is a wealthy farmer, residing near Cayce, in Fulton county, will not give up the search and he will be assisted by Dave Brown, the father of the young man's wife, as well as others who are interested. Tom White is one of the most popular young men of Hickman county and his mysterious disappearance has created quite an excitement.

Burdick Quits Business.

Fulton City, April 21.—J. C. Burdick, of Fulton City, one of the oldest and most prominent merchants of Fulton county, received a letter signed "night riders," warning him to close out his business and leave the community at once. Mr. Burdick, through an agreement with J. C. Harris, owner of Redfoot lake, has had a monopoly on the fish output since the last ruling of the legislature, and the fishermen becoming licensed at being forced to accept Burdick's prices for their fish, adopted the methods of the "night riders" and after destroying several fish docks on the lake, are seeking vindication in the destruction of the property of Mr. Burdick. We learn from a reliable source that Burdick will sell out and quit the business.

Burglary at Bardwell.

Fulton, Ky., April 21.—A telephone message was received from Bardwell last night by Chief Baker requesting him to look out for burglars who broke into the Bardwell Hardware company's store and stole about 22 razors and 27 fine pocket knives; the only trace left was a black derby hat size 7 1/4, and a white felt hat was taken from the store. The pocket knives are stamped on the blades "Bardwell Hardware Co., and razors bearing the "Keen Kutter" brand made by the Shimmus Hardware Co.

BRYAN AND HARMON

Cincinnati, April 21.—Bryan has chosen Judson Harmon as his running mate on the presidential ticket, according to Harmon's friends. Moreover, he promised Harmon if the Democratic ticket is elected he will ask congress to make the vice-president ex-officio a cabinet member.

Murray Harris is Caught at Home by Constable Clint Drinkard, Who Has Been Chasing Calloway Riders.

Judge Wells Appears at Louisville, But He Declines to be Interviewed on Subject by Newspaper Men.

Louisville, Ky., April 21.—(Special.)—County Judge Wells, of Calloway county, is here. He refuses to talk of the situation except to say he believes the backbone of the night riders is broken. He is not going to Frankfort and has not seen the governor.

The Cincinnati Enquirer this morning said Judge Wells was fleeing from night riders and this increased him.

Murray, Ky., April 21.—(Special.)—Murray Harris is in the custody of the county officials again and will testify before the grand jury against the night rider bands on the west side of the county. Harris is the young man who confessed and implicated other members of the band, which has been operating around Kirksey. Afterwards the night riders made such bold threats that his own family drove him into exile to protect his life and theirs. His capture was effected by Constable Clint Drinkard, the brave officer, whose store was burned, and around whose house a man was seen recently lurking with a rifle. Drinkard has devoted his time since the burning of his store to running down the night riders in his neighborhood. He brought Harris into town this morning. Harris' testimony was absolutely necessary in the chain of evidence against the Kirksey night riders. He will not be allowed out of the surveillance of the officers, and he will be protected by a guard.

Kelsie Kirk Captured.

Murray, Ky., April 21.—(Special.)—The arrest last night of Kelsie Kirk on the bank of the Tennessee river on three charges of night riding was one of the most gratifying since the Calloway county grand jury first reported. Kelsie, who is a wild young fellow, was one of the first indicted, but he had fled to Trigg county, and was hard to find. His arrest by Robert Laster, a special deputy, also shows how well organized the forces of the county are under Judge Wells, Sheriff Edwards and Major Albrecht. Laster is one of the men patrolling the river, and he was to report when Kelsie Kirk had crossed. Laster made the arrest himself at a Calloway town just as Kelsie was preparing to cross back into Trigg county. He had been visiting home folks. He was locked up in default of bond.

COL. HENRY L. STONE MAKES REPLY TO LETTER OF SENATOR-ELECT BRADLEY

Tells Why He Should be Fighting for Republican Party Instead of Against Probable Nominee.

The following circular letter was sent out by Senator-elect W. O. Bradley:

"My Dear Sir: In my judgment, owing to the bitter opposition of the labor union and negroes, the election of Taft, if he should be nominated, would be greatly endangered.

"The federal officeholders appear to be almost unanimously for Taft, because they generally seem to fear that they will be removed from office if they should oppose him. They may rest assured that no such removal will be made on this account, as every citizen has a right to his opinion. Combinations of federal officeholders may see trouble, but those exercising their individual opinions will not be molested.

"I hope that you will go to your ward convention, on April 25, and see that your friends also attend, and that you will instruct your delegates to vote for the nomination of Mr. Fairbanks who can command the support of all elements of our party, and who has been kind to the people of Kentucky.

"Please see your friends in your ward and urge that they immediately go to work for Fairbanks.

"Bear in mind that this struggle does not, in anywise, involve the administrations of the city of Louisville and Jefferson county. No city or county officers are to be elected this year. Vote for delegates pledged for Fairbanks, and do not suffer yourselves to be turned from this purpose by campaign cries uttered for the purpose of deceiving Republicans.

Elmus Williams appeared in Murray and gave bond. Kelsie Kirk is considered one of the most active members of the east side band. It is charged that he has participated in forcing a number to take the oath of allegiance to the night riders, and seldom failed to be present when something was doing on the pike at night. He was at one time a street car motorman in Paducah, and is well known in Calloway county and those adjoining.

It is said that Kelsie Kirk is the one who saved the life of Deputy Sheriff John Holland a short time ago, when one of the men, now in jail, was hiding under a building along the highway to shoot Holland as he passed. Kelsie Kirk, who is kind of heart, notified Holland of his danger, and Holland returned to his home by another route.

The 52 indictments returned are against 33 men, all members of the east side band. It is understood that the leaders of that aggregation are all indicted, and the grand jury is now engaged in the cases on the west side. This accounts for the nefarious of the soldiers Saturday night, in their effort to find Murray Harris.

Quarterly Conference at Broadway.

The Rev. J. W. Blackart, presiding elder of the Paducah district, will hold the second quarterly conference of the Broadway Methodist church tonight at 7:45 o'clock at the church. All the officials of the church are expected to be present.

PADUCAH WINS

Washington, April 21.—(Special.)—The draft of the omnibus building bill completed includes the $20,000 improvement and repairs for the federal building at Paducah.

MAYSVILLE STRIKE

Maysville, Ky., April 21.—(Special.)—The High school strike situation is not changing. Superintendent Clinton was hissed by pupils when he tried to address them. The new teacher in the place of Professor Corryell was discharged as he was unable to handle the classes.

CAIRO ELECTION

An election to determine whether the city of Cairo will be wet or dry for the next three years is being held in that city today. Several Paducahans went to Cairo last night and will remain over until the votes are counted.

SHOOT HIMSELF AFTER FASTENING ROPE ABOUT NECK

George Beardon of Ballard County Makes Certain of Death.

Fall Breaks Rope But Bullet Ends His Life.

PREPARED FOR HIS FUNERAL

After bathing and carefully dressing himself for burial, and writing a note to his wife explaining the preparations, George L. Beardon, of Gage, Ballard county, took a rope and climbed onto a rafter in his tobacco barn about 200 yards from his house. He carried with him also an old-fashioned double barrel pistol. He fastened one end of the rope securely to another rafter, and made a noose, which he fitted about his own neck. Then he poised himself on the edge of the beam and fired a bullet into his brain. He fell off the rafter on his face, breaking the rope with the weight of his body, and was found some cold in death by his family an hour or more later. The deed was done about 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, as the shot was heard by a neighbor.

Beardon was a well-to-do farmer between 50 and 60 years old, and leaves a wife and four grown sons, one of whom, Urey Beardon, formerly lived at Paducah, but is now in Princeton. The note left by Mr. Beardon was brief. He said he was prepared for burial and he left instructions concerning the funeral, but he hinted at no cause for his rash act. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon.

CONTRACTOR HAS SELF INDICTED ON OWN EVIDENCE

Perhaps the most accommodating man who has ever been presented before a federal grand jury in Paducah is D. B. Wilson, of the firm of Wilson & Bondurant, contractors, who in the absence of the prosecuting witness yesterday appeared before the grand jury and gave evidence on which indictments were returned against his firm, and V. Carpenter and J. D. Walker, all contractors working on the Hickman levee, and charged with violating the eight hour law. "I wanted to get the case over with," said Mr. Wilson. "They were shy a jurymen just at the moment, and I even offered to fill his place long enough to indict us."

JIM HOWARD'S CASE

Former District Attorney W. M. Smith, of Louisville, is in the city attending federal court. He is attorney for Jim Howard, and while not intending to anticipate the governor's action, he expressed confidence that the proof of his client's innocence was placed so clearly before the governor that a pardon will be granted.

Grain Market.

St. Louis, April 21.—Wheat, 97; corn, 58; oats, 52 1/2.

WEATHER.

PLEASANT

Generally fair tonight and Wednesday. Rising temperatures. Highest temperature yesterday, 78; lowest today, 50.

Brig. Gen. Roger Williams Comes to Paducah to Assume Command of Troops on Duty in the Black Patch.

This City Will be Headquarters of Military Operations Hereafter—Aggressive Campaign Now on.

Frankfort, Ky., April 21.—(Special.)—Brigadier General Roger D. Williams, of Lexington, commander of the Kentucky national guard, has been ordered to Paducah to take command of the troops in the Black Patch. He held a conference with the governor at Frankfort, and it is understood he has authority to use the entire force of the state in his discretion to stamp out night riding. His headquarters will be in Paducah.

It is evident from this that the state authorities intend to take advantage of the breach made in Calloway county to break up the night rider bands, and an aggressive campaign will be carried on.

Major E. B. Bassett, commanding the first battalion of the Third regiment, and Major G. W. Albrecht, of the Second regiment, who has been commanding the detachment on duty in the Black Patch, left Hopkinsville at 11:20 o'clock this morning presumably to report to General Williams at Paducah.

General Williams was commander for many years of the Second regiment, and is one of the most efficient officers of the militia in the United States. When the state militia was organized into a brigade, Colonel Williams was made brigadier general and placed in command.

General Williams here. Brigadier General Williams has arrived in Paducah and assumed command of the troops. He declined to be interviewed.

CAN'T GET NAMES

Memphis, Tenn., April 21.—Four Italians were killed and forty injured this morning by the premature explosion of blasting powder at a construction camp near Heber, Ark. The interpreter was killed and names are not obtainable.

Cyclone Suit.

The suit of the Smith sisters against J. M. White for $4,000 damages as a result of millinery being destroyed by the collapse of a wall of the building formerly occupied by the Scott Hardware company, has been on trial in federal court today, a large number of witnesses being introduced. The Smith sisters are represented by Attorneys Cree & Ross while Campbell & Campbell, H. S. Corbett, of Paducah, and City Attorney James Richards, of Louisville, represent Captain White.

The contention of the plaintiff is that Capt. White was responsible for the damage by allowing the walls which had been rendered unsafe and dangerous by a fire, to stand. The defense claims that the collapse was caused by a tornado or in legal terms "an act of God." Practically every contractor and builder in the city are witnesses and other witnesses are Weather Observer Borneman, and A. F. Lagerwahl and the others injured in the collapse of the building.

It Was A Joke They Played.

Will Meadows, 17 years old, and Birdie Mason, 16 years old, both of Barlow, Ky., are a pair of practical jokers. Not because they really entertained any serious notion of getting married, or because they wanted to frighten their relatives, but rather because they wanted to play a good joke upon their relatives, they ran away from home and came to Paducah Sunday afternoon, leaving word that when they returned it would be as man and wife.

Whether they actually applied for a license to marry at the court house in this city is not known, but after remaining at the home of a relative in Paducah Sunday night, they took the steamer Dick Fowler yesterday morning for Metropolis. In the meantime the frightened relatives at Barlow, who could not see the point of the joke, telephoned to this city and to Metropolis warning the county clerk in each place not to issue a marriage license to them for the very good reason that neither of them is of a marriageable age. At Metropolis they were met by an officer who called the young woman by name and asked them both if they were looking for the court house. They were too foxy for the Metropolis policeman, however, and the girl denied her name and both declared that they simply came to

LET ALL ENTER ON NORTHERN TRACK SAYS M. N. BURNS

A special and informal meeting of the board of aldermen was held in the council chambers at the city hall this afternoon to give the members of the board and such citizens who desired to attend an opportunity to hear the address of M. N. Burns, of St. Louis, upon the proposition for the granting of a railway franchise to the Paducah & Northern railroad. Aldermen Sherrill, Baker, Hannan, Miller, Oehschlaeger and Stewart and about 25 well known citizens were present. Mr. Burns, who is the president of the Toledo, St. Louis & New Orleans railway, objected to the proposed Paducah & Northern franchise on the grounds that it would shut out the chance of any railroads to get into Paducah. He offered a typewritten amendment to the proposed franchise, which, if adopted as a part of the instrument, will permit any road seeking admission to this city to come into the city on the tracks of the Paducah & Northern.

DE SAGAN TALKS

Paris, April 21.—Prince de Sagan, left for Italy today. Madame Gould is due in Naples Thursday and will meet him there. He spoke with unexpected good humor of what he terms his "persecution" by American papers, and public. Questioned as to his approaching marriage he said: "The future is in God's hand, and you know whom besides."

Runaway on Broadway.

A runaway that might have proved serious took place on Broadway near Twelfth street about 6:30 o'clock this morning, when a mule owned by E. P. Gilson ran away, throwing the driver, a negro, out of his seat and dumping the wagon in the gutter. The driver kept hold of the lines and brought the animal to a stop without serious damage to the mule or the vehicle. A passing bicyclist, however, had a narrow escape from being run over.

DECORATE CHURCH

The Ramsey society of the Broadway Methodist church last night closed the contract with Bogard & Son, church decorators of Chicago, to decorate the auditorium of the church and the work will begin on Monday. It will be completed in a month. Green will be the prevailing tint of the walls. The firm stands high as artists in their line of work and has just completed the frescoing of the Methodist and Christian churches in Mayfield.

Miss Sophia Baker, of South Twelfth street, who was stricken with paralysis last week, is resting better today.

OBJECTIONS TO PAD. & NORTHERN RAILROAD PLANS

Bridge at Brookport Not Feasible and Proposed Route Only One Possible.

Promoter Owns Land at Brookport.

BUSINESS MEN GIVE REASONS

"The principal objections to the Paducah & Northern propositions as admitted by the organ of opposition, inspired by a promoter of another railroad seeking entrance into the city," said a business man today, "is that Paducah can not obtain a direct route to the north without a bridge at this point, and that the construction of a bridge at Metropolis will make the extension from that town to Paducah a mere jerkwater route; that roads seeking a southern outlet would go on from Metropolis, thereby leaving Paducah on a mere branch."

"The statements are ridiculous. The roads seeking entrance into Paducah are the Big Four and the Frisco. Both of these roads have lines into Cairo, and a man with any degree of intelligence knows they would find it more profitable to build from that point south, if that was their object."

"It is the intention of these roads, if they get the Paducah entrance, to make traffic arrangements with the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis for their southern outlets—a proposition which will be appreciated by any one who studies it for a moment, and which is verified by the fact that as soon as the Paducah & Northern proposition was broached the Louisville & Nashville, which is the controlling factor in the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis, abandoned its contemplated line from a point near Murray to Cairo, where it would connect with these two roads."

"To consider the bridge proposition: Every one agrees it would be a nice thing to have a bridge across the Ohio here, but it is not as practicable and it is the practical things that appeal to the moneyed interest before the merely 'nice.' Railroad engineers have investigated the bridge

FOUNTAIN AVE. CHURCH

Stewards of the Trimble Street Methodist church met last night and decided to call the new edifice Fountain Avenue Methodist church. It will be erected at Fountain avenue and Monroe street, and the work of construction will commence about June 1.

FORTY BODIES RECOVERED

Melbourne, Australia, April 21.—Fortytwo bodies were taken from the ruins of the Baybrook Junction wreck. It is believed that several others are under the burned cars. The injured number 58. Bendigo, the train engineer, says the brakes failed to work.

GRAND JURY'S WORK

The McCracken county grand jury, which is still in session, will not make its next report until court sits again and this may not be until Judge Reed opens the civil term next Monday. It may be, however, that some day toward the latter part of the present week will be appointed as sentence day, in which event the grand jury will be given an opportunity to report upon indictments rendered. It is understood that some of the night rider letter writers will be indicted.

KING THANKS RESCUERS

Madrid, April 21.—King Alfonso gave a street car motorman ten dollars for saving the king's life yesterday. The auto in which the king was riding collided with a street car. The motorman's action prevented a serious accident. The king gave his thanks in addition to the money.

MATCH FOR BIG PURSE.

London, April 21.—Hackschmidt's manager announced Lord Louisa and A. G. Vanderbilt offered a purse of $10,000 for a match between Hackschmidt and Goch before August, either in England or on a neutral soil.

DON'T mistake mere cheapness for economy in clothes buying. It's not the moderate price which deserves prominence in a consideration of KINGSTON CLOTHES; it's the quality which you get for that moderate price. Every clothing house in the country has suits which they sell for $15 $20 and $25, but, from a comparative standpoint, they do not deserve to be considered in the same class with KINGSTON garments. They lack the style, the careful tailoring, the money's worth characteristic which our clothes possess. If you haven't yet bought your spring suit, join the ranks of the dollar-wise and make it a KINGSTON.

Our Easter business was far beyond our most sanguine expectations—an unmistakable tribute to KINGSTON CLOTHES.

ODD FELLOWS

PROGRAM FOR INTERSTATE MEETING IS COMPLETED.

Those Who Will Speak, Line of March and Work for the Night—Many Coming.

All arrangements are made, including the line of march and place of forming the parade for the Odd Fellows' interstate meeting Monday. The meeting is made up of lodges of the order in western Kentucky and southern Illinois, and will be attended by numerous members of the members of the order.

A feature of the meeting here will be a basket picnic at Wallace park, and after the picnic speeches will be made. The Rev. J. R. Henry will deliver the invocation and Mayor James Smith will make the address of welcome with a response by C. B. Hatfield, County Attorney. Allen W. Barkley is on the program for an address on "Fraternalism," and the Rev. Henry will have as a subject "Odd Fellowship."

Dancing will be enjoyed at the pavilion from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

In the evening degrees will be conferred by the Rebekah and Odd Fellow lodges in the lodge rooms of the Three Links building which will be completed and the handsome furniture installed. The Brookport, degree team of the Rebekahs and the Mechanicsburg team of the Odd Fellows will be in charge of the degree work.

The parade will form at Fifth street and Broadway. Mechanicsburg lodge marching down from its hall at Third and Elizabeth streets, while Ingleside and Mangum lodges and all visiting members will start from the Three Links building joining the Mechanicsburg lodge at Fifth street. The line of march will extend down Fifth street to Jefferson street, down Jefferson street to Second street, thence to Broadway and out Broadway to Ninth street, where the parade will disband and take cars for the park.

GIGANTIC TELEPHONE FAILURE— STOCKHOLDERS BADLY VICTIMIZED. COLLAPSE OF INDEPENDENT CO.

Newark, N. J., April 1.—With the filing of an opinion advising the appointment of a receiver for the United States Independent Telephone company by Vice Chancellor Howell here yesterday afternoon, comes the closing phase of a chimera in the line of independent telephone that for magnitude rivals anything in the history of high financing. The losses aggregating $70,000,000.

Readers of the Leader all over the state of Connecticut will be doubly interested in this history of the inception, career, and collapse of the most ambitious independent telephone project ever attempted, particularly in view of the fact that now an independent company is striving for a foothold in the Nutmeg state.

This United States Independent Telephone company was capitalized at $50,000,000 in the state of New Jersey with its principal seat of business in Rochester, New York, where it was established, ON PAPER, to oppose the Rochester Telephone company which had the field well covered.

Application for the receivership was made yesterday by James M. E. O'Grady, a stockholder who set up a deficiency judgment for more than $16,000,000.

Vice Chancellor Howell in his opinion said: "THE QUESTION OF INSOLVENCY IS ONE WHICH I NEED NOT CONSIDER BECAUSE IT IS AMPLY PROVEN NOT ONLY BY THE COMPLAINTANTS BUT MORE PARTICULARLY BY THE DEFENDANTS."

"A NEW JERSEY CORPORATION WHICH HAS NO PROPERTY AND IS A JUDICIAL DEBITOR TO THE EXTENT OF $16,000,000 EVEN THOUGH IT BE A FOREIGN JUDGMENT, MUST BE HELD INSOLVENT."

The people of Rochester, bankers, lawyers, ministers, trustees, widows, clerks, dressmakers and thousands dependent upon the income from these bonds, sold them by the promoters, are today paying the fiddler.

It was the severest blow ever dealt the people of any one city and brought panic conditions on Rochester a full year before they came in the depression of 1907 to the country at large.

Through the decline in the price of its securities the net money loss to the people of Rochester WAS NOT FAR FROM $10,000,000 AND THE RESULTING RECESSION IN BUSINESS RESULTED IN A LOSS OF AT LEAST $400,000 TO THE MANUFACTURERS AND MERCHANTS OF THE PLACE.

HISTORY OF COMPANY. The company was capitalized nominally at $100,000,000 INCREASED A FEW DAYS LATER TO FIFTY MILLIONS.

It was authorized by its articles of incorporation to create a bonded indebtedness of $25,000,000 of which about one-half was finally issued.

The total amount of stock outstanding was never more than seven millions.

The directorate included Rochester's most respected, most influential and most powerful men.

THEIR APPEARANCE IN THE DIRECTORATE WAS ACCEPTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY AS A GUARANTEE OF THE SOUNDNESS OF THE ENTIRE PROPOSITION AND OF THE CAPABILITY OF THE COMPANY'S MANAGEMENT.

This parent company was a holding concern only, and for the control of such operating and manufacturing companies as should become affiliated with it, bonds were to be given accompanied by a 10 per cent. stock bonus.

ECZEMA NOW CURABLE.

All Itching Skin Diseases Which Are Not Hereditary Instantly Relieved by Oil of Wintergreen.

Can Eczema be cured? Some physicians say "Yes." Some say "No."

The real question is, "What is meant by Eczema?" If you mean those sealy eruptions, those diseases which make their first appearance, not at birth, but years afterward, and perhaps not until middle age—then there can no longer be any question that these forms of Eczema are curable.

Simple vegetable oil of wintergreen, mixed with other vegetable ingredients, will kill the germs that infect the skin. Apply this prescription to the skin, and instantly that awful itch is gone. The very moment the liquid is applied, that agonizing, tantalizing itch disappears, and continued applications of this external remedy soon cure the disease.

We carry in stock this oil of wintergreen properly compounded into D. D. D. Prescription. While we are not sure that it will cure all those cases of skin trouble which are inherited, we positively know that this D. D. D. Prescription, whenever rightly used, will cure every last case of genuine Eczema or other skin trouble, which did not exist at birth.

We know this. Anyway you, yourself, will know that D. D. D. Prescription instantly takes away the itch the moment it is applied to the skin. R. W. Walker Co., 5th and Broadway. Stop that itch today—Instantly. Just call at our store and try this refreshing and soothing liquid; ask also about D. D. D. Soap.

The bonus was also given for cash subscription to the bonds.

An inflated valuation was given all properties taken over in order to increase in the minds of a speculating public the attractiveness of the securities of which these properties were the base.

Thus the Rochester Telephone company's stock was taken over at 200 while the Stromberg-Carlson Manufacturing company (telephone supplies) came in on a basis of 175 for the common and 135 for the preferred, in bonds with a bonus in all cases of 40 per cent. in U. S. I. stock.

PUBLIC HOUGHT WATER.

The bonds were collateral trust five per cent. and the quantity outstanding was immense in proportion to the intrinsic value of the properties covered.

They were of highly speculative character and not an investment by any manner of means.

This people did not see and great quantities were taken as investments by widows, superannuated clergymen, trustees, women with small savings, and the stock was taken where it was considered possible to wait two or three years for the returns.

The real cause of weakness was of course the excessive amount of water in the project and the natural market was narrow and weak when the interim certificates appeared.

The artificial market created to stimulate demand for the securities was not much better. Only one banker in Rochester saw the end in the beginning and he informed two brokers who were friends.

They sold when the securities were at top notch and even went short on the stock and bonds.

THE MARKET SAGGED AND JOHN C. WOODBURY, ONE OF THE DIRECTORS, LOST HIS ENTIRE FORTUNE OF $750,000 PEGGING THE MARKET, BUYING ALL THE BONDS THAT WERE OFFERED.

On or about March 3, 1906, the first of a large quantity of bonds appeared on the market coming from a source that was for several months unknown. They were offered down and sold for whatever they would bring. The sale continued through March, April and a few days in May. The bonds remained quiet for a week or two, but about May 25 another quantity appeared, when the price was about 68. These, also, were offered down, and the price fell off, the net loss averaging about two points per week for the entire period from June 1 to September 1.

The block sold in the spring amounted to about $750,000, while the summer block amounted to more than $1,000,000.

The announcement to the effect that the company was in financial difficulties caused a sharp decline in the price of the bonds and stock, but the market was manipulated and the decline not only temporarily checked but prices were given an upward impulse that carried them higher than they had been since midsummer. Various reports by certified accountants on the condition of the parent and affiliated companies were presented at the time the note issue was voted, and the face of the evidence was to the effect that not only the subsidiary companies, but the waterlogged parent as well were in a highly satisfactory condition. According to these reports the U. S. I. bonds at the prices then current were "hay," and many were bought, the manipulation being aided by much legitimate buying. One director of the company, who has since said that he was misled by these reports, sold a large amount of high-priced dividend paying stocks and put the entire proceeds into U. S. I. bonds.

Awakening of Investors.

But it was an artificial condition and before October, 1906, was well started another crisis appeared. President Fincane faced an angry board of directors and said to them that the company was practically a wreck, and if anything was saved action must be taken immediately. An advisory committee of five members was appointed upon the request of Mr. Fincane, which took over the general direction of the company's affairs, including the duties of the president, an emergency loan was made by some of the large bondholders and the work of salvaging the company was begun. The bonds had sagged again and practically every holder became alarmed.

Dressmakers, milliners, laundresses, clerks, servants and others who were more or less dependent upon the income from the bonds telephoned to ask as to their safety of their "investment." Everywhere in every walk of life in the city the impending failure of the company had cast its black shadow.

Nothing of moment was said by the advisory committee until during the closing days of 1906, when it was announced that both the Rochester Telephone company and the Stromberg-Carlson company had passed their dividends. About the close of January, 1907, a self-appointed committee of bondholders, composed of George Eastman, Hiram W. Sibley, James S. Watson and others, announced that an offer had been received from the Title Guarantee and Trust company, of Jersey City, N. J., to take over the securities of the U. S. I. company on the basis of 25 for the bonds, 5 for the stock and 1 for the preferred stock, the latter having been used in buying the New York Independent "franchise," later capitalized at $26,000,000 in the New York Independent Telephone company.

Prevented Saving Portion.

It was subsequently learned that the trust company was the representative of the American Telephone and Telegraph company (the Bell parent organization). The offer was accepted, more than 90 per cent of each class of securities assenting, but certain interests in and out of Rochester secured political assistance and the proposed deal was stopped by an injunction secured by Attorney-General Jackson, of New York state.

Walter B. Duffy, ex chairman of the reorganization committee, gave out an interview in which he declared it was the duty of the wealthy bondholders, who had given the company prestige in the beginning, to participate in the reorganization and thus do what they could to save at least a little for the small, poor bondholders. Various opinions are held concerning the interview, but it had the desired effect and undoubtedly saved the situation. Immediately after the interview appeared holders of the 50 per cent of bonds required to give the reorganization committee standing during the foreclosure proceedings, assented to the plan. The period within which to deposit assenting bonds was extended and the date of the sale was deferred.

The sale of the Utah Independent Telephone company's stock held by the U. S. I., which amounted to 50.20 per cent of the amount outstanding, was solicited in the summer of 1907 by Elmer B. Jones, of Salt Lake City, managing director of the company. An option was given on the stock, but it was impossible for Mr. Jones to comply with the terms within the option period. After an unsuccessful attempt by Jones to have the option extended, the securities were sold through John N. Beckley, of Rochester, to R. L. Day and company, of New York, brokers, acting presumably for the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company, for $910,000 cash.

While the negotiations relative to the Utah securities were going on, W. C. Wade, of Jamestown, N. Y., approached the advisory committee with a proposition to purchase the control of the Home Telephone company, of Jamestown, which was held, to all intents and purposes, by the U. S. I. This control was represented by certain stock upon which a Rochester bank had loaned $86,000. Wade made a bid of $30,000, and afterward raised it to $45,000. The sale was made at that figure, the bank taking a loss of $41,000.

This sale was the last made before the order of sale in the foreclosure action was entered.

Lighthouse Kills Birds.

One of the keepers who came ashore from Moon Island recently tells the story of the strange death encountered by thousands of the migrating birds every spring. Flying along the coast at night they are instantly attracted by the powerful light from the watch tower, as moths are drawn to a candle. Thousands of these birds in their passage north fly with full force against the thick glass of the brilliantly lighted lantern. Stunned to death, they fall to the rocks below or scale away for a little distance and flutter helplessly into the water. The ## Daily Thought.

There's no place for the man who has lost his self-respect.

If the men, who are fighting so hard against William H. Taft in Kentucky, have such a wonderful regard for the welfare of the colored brother, why are M. H. Thatcher and Ben Bruner preferring charges against Ernest Gaines, of Covington, special examiner of the internal revenue department. He is one of the best known colored men in the state, and being one of the most intelligent leaders of his race, he has espoused the cause of Secretary of War Taft. If they are fighting Gaines because he is for Taft, perhaps their interest in the colored man is limited to his usefulness in the present contest.

WHAT MAY COME.

Soldiers, armed soldiers, dressed for service, with belts full of cartridges and huge pistols dangling menacingly at their sides, parade our streets in the day time and patrol the lonely pikes at midnight. And why? Because some of our people, who follow the peaceful pursuits of husbandry in the day time, saddle their horses when the shades of night fall, pull black stockings down over their faces, throw white handkerchiefs over their shoulders and ride forth to sleeping villages or the hushed home-lands of some unsuspecting farmer and shoot into windows where women and children are slumbering, forcing the husband and father to fare forth and receive a brutal beating to protect his loved ones from the bullets of the murderous band. Maybe their hellish fancy turns to fire, and with incendiary torch they streak the dark background of the night with the red glare of a burning barn—or a dwelling house, then they can hide in the wood and watch with glee the inmates struggling, sleep-eyed through the flames, naked or garbed only in their night clothes.

That's why the soldiers are here. And these are not ignorant, oppressed, inhaling men, led by some wild-tongued demagogue and rendered desperate by the thought of starving women and children at home. Some of these boast that they represent the blue blood of west Kentucky's agricultural sections, men who enjoy the honorable heritage of ancestral respect for law and order and decency; men who are clearing $200 the acre from their fertile farms. Their presence in the oath-bound band of arson and murder does not give it character. The more shame to them! We have naught but pity for the poor farmer, deluded into joining the band by his more enlightened and prosperous neighbor. He'll behave if his betters do.

We do not resent the presence of soldiers in the Black Patch. We resent the condition that makes their presence tolerable. "Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," are guaranteed by our constitution, and when local authorities are unable to perform that guaranty, then must the military power be invoked. These soldiers are Kentucky boys and they represent Kentucky's might, and right well are they doing their work. Not even those whose watchful eyes are alert to magnify some slight deviation from decorum, can criticize their conduct so far. But we warn these night riders right now, that when they make it apparent that these state soldiers are unable to protect citizens of the United States in the peaceful possession of property and the right to live, then there is another power that can be invoked; and before it can be said that anarchy reigns in Kentucky, they will see the civil authority abrogated, and a military governor appointed over the state, and some of the leading men of the community will leave their farms to be filled by tenants, while they serve well-deserved sentences at Governor's Island or Ft. Leavenworth, sent there by a summary court martial.

THE MISSION OF TODAY.

There is a class of beings all large today who are the brand-new product of the last ten years. Like other specialists, they have developed a coterie language of their own, and call themselves social workers. They are the district visitors of charity organizations, the undergraduates in schools of philanthropy, the gatherers of labor statistics, investigators of poverty, settlement workers, probation court officers, professors of sociology, the directors of boys' and girls' clubs, and a multitude of other functionaries. Their subject-matter for both research and active alleviative and preventive work includes child labor, women in industry, employers' liability, the eight-hour day, industrial education, prison reform, the treatment of the criminal, overwork, congestion and over population, tubercular taint, and all the rest of the betterment program. Their work is of distinct value in serving the community with its problems. They live in a world of reality, and are putting their excellent minds, which might have dwelt with literary criticism, on the vexations of the municipal budget and the impediments to sanitation and clean streets. They are obedient to the impulse that used to drive men and women into church and religious activity, or into the arts. It is the same desire that art expresses—the escape from the narrow individual life into a sense of merging with larger ideas and tendencies. Art has hardly yet become a vocation for the many in this country. In other nations, and at other times, music, sculpture, and cathedral building have been the concrete expression of the longing of the race to escape the limitations of the daily routine. In those times and places, the inner life of the common people has been able to shine itself in definite forms that the eye could see and the hand could touch. The statue and the painting, and the church were so many real points where discouragement and fatigue and sorrow could refresh themselves. These people, who are growing up among us, are busy in a like good effort to merge the personal career and petty grind into a community life. Public baths and libraries and schools, dispensaries, vacation homes, musical settlements, technical institutes for the people, represent the desire for expansion and wider form of life.—Editorial in Easter Collier's.

Mose, the darky cook of a party of surveyors in eastern Texas, was greatly annoyed by the razorback hogs that roamed around the camp. One evening, while he was at the spring, a particularly ravenous band of these "piny wool" roasters raided the cook tent and ate everything that was edible and some other things that weren't.

For several moments after his return from the spring Mose could find no words to express his feelings. "Well," he finally exclaimed, "de good Lawd, sububly knowed His business when He named hawgs! Dey sho' is hawgs!"

CHAPTER XX.

I HAD plenty of time to run away. I do not know why I did not do so, but the fact stands that I remained where I was until they had finished Capt. Solover. Then I took to my heels, but was soon cornered. I drew my revolver, remembered that I had emptied it in the seal cave and had time for no more coherent mental processes. A smothering weight hung itself on me, against which I struggled as hard as I could, shrinking in anticipation from the thrifty plunge of the knives. However, though the weight increased until further struggle was impossible, I was not harmed and in a few moments found myself, wrists and ankles tied, beside a roaring fire. While I collected myself I heard the grate of a top being shoved off from the cave and in a few moments later made out lights around the laughing Lass.

The footing party returned very shortly. Their plundering had gone only as far as liquor and arms. Thrackles let down from the old top a keg at the end of a line. Perdosa and the nigger each carried an armful of the 34-40 rifles. The keg was rolled to the fire and broached.

The men got drunk, wildly drunk, but not helplessly so. A dame commended itself to them through the liquor. The ordinary characteristics of their composition sprang into sharper relief. The nigger became more sullen, Perdosa more snake-like, Pulz more viciously evil. Thrackles more brutal, while Handy Solomon, staggering from his seat to the open keg and back again, roared fragments of a chanty, his red head contrasting with his smoky black hair and his swarthy hooded countenance—he needed no further touch.

Their evil passions were all awake, and the plan, so long indefinite, developed like a photographer's plate. "That's one gone," said Thrackles. "And now the diamonds," muttered Pulz.

"There's a ship upon the windward, a week upon the lee. Down on the coast of the high Barbaree."

roared Handy Solomon. "It's the best night's work we ever did. The stuff's ours. Then it's me for a big stone house in Frisco!"

"Frisco?" sneered Pulz. "That's all you know. You ought to travel. Paris for me and a little girl to learn the language from."

"I get him a fine caballo an' fine saddle an' the ole's," breathed Perdosa sentimentally. "I ride and the silver jingle and the sonora look!"

"What you want, doctor?" they demanded of the silent nigger.

But the nigger only rolled his eyes and shook his head. By and by he arose and disappeared in the dusk and was no more seen.

"D— fool!" muttered Handy Solomon. "Well, here's to crime!"

He drank a deep cup of the raw rum and staggered back to his seat on the sands.

"I am not a man-o'-war, nor a privateer," said he. "Blow high, blow low; what care we! But I am a jolly pirate, and I'm sailing for my fun."

Down on the coast of the high Barbaree—

he sang. "Well land in Valparaiso and we'll get every man his way, and well sink the old Laughing Lass so deep the mermaids can't find her."

Thrackles piled on more wood, and the fire leaped high.

"Let's get after 'em," said he. "Tomorrow's jest 's good," muttered Pulz. "Let's have 'nother drink."

"Well stay here 'n see if our old friend Percy don't show up," said Handy Solomon. He threw back his head and roared forth a volume of sound toward the dim stars.

"Bronzies to bronzies the gallant ships did lay. Blow high, blow low; what care we! Till the jolly man-o'-war shot the pirate's mast away."

Down on the coast of the high Barbaree—

I saw near me a live coal dislodged from the fire when Thrackles had

At the edge of the wash I could make out something prone, dlan, limp, thrown on the armful of wood. An alien came to me. I hitched myself to the spark and laid across it the rope with which my wrists were tied. This

AN M. D. ON KIDNEY DISEASE.

Writing on kidney disease, the medical term for which is Nephritis, Dr. J. W. Chismond says in the "MEDICAL BRIEF:"

"In its incipency it is as curable as any malady that the system is heir to."

"IN ITS SECONDARY STAGE WE POSSESS NO SPECIFIC FOR ITS RAVAGES."

Where does that leave the kidney medicines you have been taking?

And just as we have said over and over, it doesn't make much difference what you call kidney trouble, if it fastens, physicians and druggists have had no successful treatment for it. True, it commonly gets well at first, but if it does not, it enters the second stage that was incurable up to the discovery of Filton's Renal Compound, which is the first thing known to reduce inflammation in kidney tissues.

When does the second stage commence? Dr. Chismond says: "IT DEVELOPS SO UNCONSCIOUSLY IT IS AS A RULE FAR ADVANCED BEFORE IT IS DISCOVERED."

In view of these acknowledged facts, people with kidney trouble should do some very serious thinking before taking futile kidney medicines under which the kidney deaths have risen to over 170 per day. Even if the inflammation is in the first stage, a course of futile medicine is delay that develops the very condition that Dr. Chismond says is "irreparable," and that was irreparable up to the date of Filton's beneficial discovery.

If you have kidney trouble, either starting or seated, how can there be any question about your taking the only known specific for inflammation of the kidneys, which, incipient or chronic, is the real difficulty with kidney troubled people.

Behind my back, was not easy to accomplish, and twice I turned my wrists before I succeeded. Fortunately I was at the edge of the illumination and behind the group. I turned over on my side so that my back was toward the fire. Then rapidly I cast loose my native lashings. Thus I was free, and selecting a moment when no particular attention was turned toward the room I rolled over a small lamp, got to my hands and knees and rose freely.

Through the course grass I crept due to the very entrance of the arroyo, then rose to my feet. In the middle distance the fire leaped red in the glow felt intermittently on the curves rolling in. The men staggered or lay prone, either as epileptic seizures or as intermeddles, pulled by the light. The keg stood solid and substantial, the hub silent which roared the orgy. At the edge of the wash I could make out something prone, dlan, limp, thrown eastward in new positions of weakness as the water ebbed and flowed beneath it, now an arm thrown out, now a head back, as though old Solover slept feverishly. The demands were getting noisy. Handy Solomon still roared the verses of his song. The others joined in, brightly off the key or punctuated the performance by wild staccato yells.

Their coffin was their ship, and their grave it was the sea.

How high, blow low, what care we! And the quarter that we gave them was to sink them to the sea.

Down on the coast of the high Barbaree—

bellowed Handy Solomon.

I turned and plunged into the cool darkness of the canyon.

will secure common country, by using them with the same energy and persistence to dislodge the rebels of the members of labor unions and the negroes which no one knows better how to do than yourself, of the false notion that Secretary Taft is unfriendly to them.

"The source you are pursuing can have but one result. In Kentucky, where you are best known and where your personal influence is greatest, namely, to make it more difficult for Judge Taft to carry Kentucky after his nomination is made, which is now a certainty on the first ballot, as no event of that nature can be forced within sixty days of its actual occurrence."

"I sincerely regret that you have seen proper to array yourself against the inevitable, and by your words and acts to furnish ammunition to the enemy to be used against yourself and your party during the approaching campaign, thus weakening instead of strengthening our nominee for president."

The Federal Officeholder.

"Second—Again, you state federal officeholders appear to be almost unanimously for Secretary Taft, because, as you assert, they fear they will be removed from office if they should oppose him. This seems to me to be an unwarranted reflection both on such officeholders and Secretary Taft.

"If it be true that a majority of this class of officers are for him, would it not be more generous, as well as just, to ascribe to them higher and more patriotic motives than the fear of losing office? Indeed, would it not be better to account for their being more federal officers for Secretary Taft than there are against him on the ground that there are more people of every class for him than there are against him? For instance, on any other theory, how do you account for the fact that there are more Republicans holding state, county and city offices in Kentucky, for Secretary Taft than there are for all others combined who have been mentioned for president? It has no power to remove them from office were they to oppose him. Nor has Secretary Taft power to remove federal officers who may oppose him for president, except to a limited extent in the war department alone, applicable, perhaps, to no one in this state."

"I am pleased to note you give assurance that no such removal will be made by him on such account, but only 'combinations of federal officeholders may see trouble,' and those asserting their individual opinions will not be molested. How about combinations of ex-officeholders, both federal and state, the names of many of whom appear signed to the printed 'Address to the Republicans of Kentucky,' which you indorse? Are they likely to 'see trouble' in the near future? I hope not from any source, official or otherwise. But this address in connection with your circular letter, form to my mind some thing very like a 'combination.' Kentucky and Mr. Fairbanks.

Third—Furthermore, you say Mr. Fairbanks has been kind to the people of Kentucky and in the address referred to, by which your name also appears, it is declared 'The Legislature of Kentucky will not tolerate the Republican of this state in the Union have stood by them as have the Republicans of Indiana.' Today we are the avowed debtors of Indiana. Let us now in this hour of opportunity, repay, in some small measure, that indebtedness by instructing our delegates to vote for Indiana's choice."

"The English of all this is this: my observation from the printed account of your speech at the Scotch meeting when this address was adopted; that because, for eight years, the governor of Indiana have refused to honor the requisitions of the governor of Kentucky for ex-Governor Taylor and ex-Secretary of State Taylor, finally charged, as I believe, with complicity in the assassination of Senator Tilden, the Republicans of this state once pick a debt of gratitude to Indiana that it cannot be paid in any other way than by casting their votes for the nomination of Mr. Fairbanks for president."

I fully appreciate the protection Indiana's governors have thus afforded those two officers, who could not have obtained heretofore a fair trial on said charge, and would, in my opinion, have been justly convicted had they been returned to Kentucky, but I fail to see the reason or logic of the argument that Kentucky Republicans should show their gratitude for such protection by supporting Mr. Fairbanks for president."

Fitness of the Candidate.

The selection of a president of the United States is a serious matter for the consideration of all our people, calling for the exercise of sound judgment, and should not be based on mere sentiment. Above all, the fitness and qualifications of the candidate himself must be considered.

While Mr. Fairbanks has discharged his duties as vice president respectably, Secretary Taft has shown his peculiar and exceptional qualifications for the office of president by the efficient and successful manner in which he has discharged his duties in many high official positions. He is, in my opinion, by his large experience in public life and natural ability, preeminently qualified for this chief magistracy of this great nation.

Miss Susie Dabney and Master Elbridge Palmer Write Prize Essays.
 Miss Susie Dabney's essay on "Trees," and Master Elbridge Palmer's essay on "Birds," have won the honors in the prize essay contest inaugurated by the local Forestry association. The contestants were the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades of the public schools and the number of excellent essays submitted makes the honor accorded Miss Dabney and Master Palmer all the greater. The two prize essays will be read on Thursday afternoon at the open meeting of the Forestry association by the young writers.

Darrell-Earnhardt.

Miss Eva Darrell and Mr. Edgar Earnhardt, both of this city, were married on Sunday afternoon at the home of Magistrate Hoaz near Florence station. It was a quiet wedding. Magistrate Hoaz performed the ceremony. The bride wore a stylish and becoming costume of brown with hat, shoes and gloves to harmonize. The couple returned to Paducah and will reside at Eleventh and Tennessee streets.

The bride is an attractive young woman popular in a large circle of friends. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Darrell, 1004 Tremble street. Mr. Earnhardt formerly resided at the Sutherland Medicine company but is now engaged in the grocery business at Eleventh and Tennessee streets. He is an enterprising young business man with many friends.

Former Paducah Boy Marries in California.

Friends and relatives in Paducah have been notified of the approaching marriage of Mr. E. H. Jones, formerly of Paducah, but now residing in San Bernardino, Cal., to Miss Katherine Hughes at Los Angeles on April 20.

Mr. Jones is the youngest son of the late E. H. Jones, for years a prominent county official of Paducah, and a nephew of Mr. T. J. Atkins of this city. He is popular in Paducah where he lived until recent years when he went with his mother, Mrs. Lucy W. Jones, and brothers, Messrs. Harry and Oscar Jones, to California to reside. He is a member of a large pharmacy firm in San Bernardino. His bride is an attractive girl of Elgin, N. Y., who has lived for several years in Los Angeles. They will reside with Mr. Jones' mother in San Bernardino.

Class Officers Chosen at Social Evening.

Mrs. Christian Kolb entertained the Little Class of the Evangelical church most pleasantly last evening at her home on Broad street. It was a social meeting of the class but officers for the year were chosen, the following being elected: President, A. E. Stein; vice president, Louis Kolb; secretary, Mr. F. C. Kenney; Treasurer, Miss Mattie Kenney; instructor, Rev. W. E. Bourquin.

The evening was enjoyably spent and delightful refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Dobbs; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stein; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kolb; Miss Harriette; Mrs. Smith; Mrs. Lena Shannon; Misses Mattie Kenney, Lena Shelton, Lena Walker, Antoinette Kolb, Ruby Kolb, Christy Kolb, Naomi Harriette; Messrs. $1,000 for a Woman.

There may be nothing new under the sun, but "When the Munny Moves" is certainly an original title for a story. It is of course, a story of mystery and it is so ingenious and interesting a mystery that the Chicago Record-Herald, in which it appears serially, offers a first prize of $1,000 to the woman who makes the best solution, with 115 other cash prizes for women and girls who make the next best solutions. The story begins in The Record-Herald Thursday, April 23, and the conditions of the contest will be found, accompanying each installment, in that paper. Those who have been unable to get The Record-Herald containing the early installments may obtain a reprint of those installments by writing to the Prize Mystery Editor, The Record-Herald, Chicago. While the masculine sex is not eligible in this competition it is probable that it will interest the whole family circle and there is no reason why men should not help their wives, daughters, or friends to a successful solution.

Auto Ride to Benton.

Plans have been laid for an automobile trip to Benton next Sunday morning, in which about twenty Paducah auto owners will participate. The leaders of the party will be Daniel Fitzpatrick, Mayor Smith and Dr. Stewart. Each machine will carry from three to five persons and it is expected the party will number about 70. The start will be made at 7 o'clock and all the members of the party will take breakfast at Benton. City Solicitor Campbell and Chief of Police James Collins will ride in Mayor Smith's car.

Notice.

Inglede Rebecca Lodge No. 17, I. O. O. F., will meet Wednesday evening at their hall in the Three Links building. All members are requested to be present.

NEWS OF COURTS

Agreed Verdict.

After the evidence had been heard in the case of the Walsh Manufacturing company against the Paducah Coopers company, the jury was withdrawn and by agreement a verdict of $3,500 for the plaintiff was rendered, each side paying its own cost. The suit was to recover $4,500 claimed to be due the plaintiff company for installing a dry kiln, which the defendant refused to accept, claiming the kiln would not dry green lumber as guaranteed. The Walsh company was represented by Attorneys George N. Monroe, of Pittsburg, and D. G. Park, of Paducah. J. B. Walsh and C. F. Williams, of Pittsburg, attended the trial. Attorneys Moquott, Berry and Corbett, of Paducah, represented the coopers company.

A verdict for the defendant was rendered in the case of John A. Gregory against the Hillman Land & Iron company, of Lyon county. The judgment was rendered by default, the plaintiff failing to enter appearance. The suit was to recover $10,000 for the death of William Gregory, who was drowned from a raft while employed by the Hillman company and was brought in the Lyon county circuit court. The defendant filed a suit to transfer the case to the federal court, to which the plaintiff did not answer and the judgment secured today will be pleaded as a bar when the case is called in the state court at Eddyville next month. Attorney C. C. Grassham, of Paducah, represented the Hillman company.

Grand Jury.

W. T. Cockrell, Theo. Lulds and Harry C. Rudolph were released from further service on the grand jury yesterday and N. B. Tapscott, A. J. Willett and C. C. Walker substituted.

Deeds Filed.

Edith O. House to Sidney Smith, property in county, $1 and other considerations.

Joseph Vornagut to Estelle Duperren, property at Seventh and Clay streets, $1,200.

In Police Court.

Police Judge Cross returned from Livingston county last evening and was on hand to preside at the regular session of that tribunal of justice this morning. Among the cases tried were the following:

Will Loving, colored, charged with breach of peace, fined $25 with attendant costs.

Aaron Harris, colored, charged with breach of peace, fined $50 and costs. Harris was charged with whipping his wife.

Harris Chambers, colored, drunk, enceph, $1 and costs.

A. J. Mobley, malicious cutting, charge dismissed and fine of $10 and costs imposed for breach of the peace.

Elvin Ingram, charged with using insulting language, fined $2 and costs.

William Jefferson and Mary Craig, colored, charged with breach of the peace, Mary Craig dismissed and William Jefferson fined $30 and costs.

Mrs. Thompson's Funeral.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Thompson, who died at her home in the Minto section of the county last Sunday, was held at Mr. Pleasant church at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Thompson was the wife of J. A. Thompson, and besides her husband, leaves two daughters and five sons. She was 58 years of age.

ASKED AGAINST AYER & LORD TIE COMPANY.

of Young Man Who Was Drowned in the Cumberland
River.

The Cadiz Record says:

"R. E. Roberts, of this city, father of Robert Lackey Roberts, the young man who was drowned in Cumberland river near Canton about three weeks ago by falling from a barge while hauling coal with a wheelbarrow from one side of the boat to the other, has filed a suit in the Trigg county court against the Ayer & Lord tie company for damages to the amount of $2,000 for the death of the young man, Joe Holland, of Canton, agent of the company and who was in charge of the time, is made a party to the suit.

"In the petition plaintiff alleges that the death of his son was caused by the negligence of the company and their agents; that at the time deceased was under 21 years of age, and that the defendants contracted with and hired him to work on said boat without the father's consent and against his will; that the deceased was not familiar with the work on the boat and had no knowledge of the dangers incident to his duties, and that the defendants and their agents failed to inform the deceased of the great dangers to his life in the performance of said duties.

"The $2,000 damages asked includes a claim of $50, which the plaintiff alleges in his petition was the young man for wages at the time of his death.

"Attorneys Denny P. Smith and J. C. Hanberry filed the suit."

IMPORTANT DECISION

Case of much interest was tried last Tuesday before Judge Emery, where George Ficklin, of this city, was charged with selling intoxicating liquors, and the evidence showed he sold Mr. Pizz, Crono and Vivo, prepared by A. M. Lawless & Co., and the proof all went to show these beverages were non-intoxicating, and the case was dismissed, as no violation of the law could be proven.

The decision of the court will act favorably with the sale of Mr. Pizz, Vivo and Crono, which are prepared and sold by A. M. Lawless & Co., of this city.

House Committee Disposed of Measure.

Long Argument Made by Vreeland in Support of His Bill—Members of Committee Said

ALDRICH BILL IN DISGUISE

Washington April 21.—The house committee on banking and currency voted to lay on the table the financial bill offered by Representative Vreeland, of New York, as a substitute for the Aldrich bill and decided to report favorably on the bill recently introduced by Chairman Fowler, providing for a currency commission to consist of forty-three members, 11 members of the senate, 11 members of the house and 21 others, who must be citizens of the United States.

The action of the committee was taken late in the afternoon after a meeting lasting all day. Vreeland appeared before the committee and made a strong argument in favor of his bill, saying that he thought it would be criminal negligence for congress to adjourn without passing some measure of protection in the event of another panic this fall. He did not, however, think a panic was imminent. Vreeland said his bill was an emergency measure only, and he favored the appointment of a currency commission to consider a permanent banking and currency law.

How to Cure Constipation

Few people altogether escape a disorder of the bowels. You may catch cold, over-eat, over-drink, worry too much, not exercise enough or do a hundred and one other things that result in constipation or costiveness. When the trouble comes it is well to know what to do for it. In the opinion of thousands there is no better cure for constipation than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which anyone can obtain for 50 cents or $1 at a drug store. We all have constipation occasionally, and the sensible thing to do is to have a bottle of this remedy always in the house. You take it as soon as you feel the first signs of constipation, for example, and when you wake up in the morning at your usual hour it produces its results. You feel better, your bowels are regular, your head clear, your eyes brighter, you feel active and spry once again, your appetite has returned and you are ready to work with enthusiasm and vigor. All this may not have taken more than a dose or two, it is not so hard to cure constipation. Can you afford to feel bad when you can feel good for so little?

Dr. Wilson Brown, of Metropolis, Ill., has no hesitancy in saying that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the greatest of all laxatives and he frankly admits to his patients that if they take it without doubt the best cure for occasional or chronic constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, flatulence, sour stomach, lazy liver, headache, dizziness, and similar digestive ills in old or young. It is a thousand times better than salts or purgative waters, acts gently but surely, is pleasant to the taste, does not grip, and cures permanently.

Go to your druggist and get a 50 cent or $1 bottle and see if our claims are not justified.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying should send to the nearest home or drug store, or to the company, this offer to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and it only costs to those who have never taken it. Send for free trial of this medicine. It is a cure for constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, flatulence, sour stomach, lazy liver, headache, dizziness, and similar digestive ills in old or young. It is a thousand times better than salts or purgative waters, acts gently but surely, is pleasant to the taste, does not grip, and cures permanently.

Vreeland, severely criticizing his measure, which he said, was the Aldrich bill, pure and simple with two sections omitted. The committee then went into executive session to consider the measure. The discussion over it was more protracted than over the Aldrich bill which was tabled last week by unanimous vote. The Vreeland bill had some supporters, and when the vote on the motion to table it was taken, Weeks, of Massachusetts, Burton, of Ohio, and McKinley, of Illinois, voted in the negative.

Those voting in the affirmative were Prineas, of Illinois, McMorris, of Michigan, Weems, of Ohio, Waldo, of New York, Haye, of California, Pango, of Louisiana, Glass, of Virginia, Gillespie, of Texas, James, of Kentucky, Crawford, of North Carolina, McHenry, of Pennsylvania, and Chalmers Fowler. In the case of the Aldrich bill the committee decided to give no reason to the house for its action simply reporting the measure tabled.

The motion to report the Fowler bill was adopted 10 to 3. Those voting in the negative were Pango, James and Crawford, while Burton and McKinley voted present.

For cuts, sprains, bruises, burns, rheumatism and all other pains, use McLean's Violent Oil Liniment. First sold in 1852, still the same effective remedy in 1908. Good for men or women. 25c, 50c and $1.00.

His Reward.

A pushcart on which three pyramids of oranges had been carefully arranged by a swarthy vender was standing near the curb of an uptown street yesterday. It was on the sunny side of the street, and the three signs, "2 cents—8 for 15 cents," "3 cents—12 for 25 cents" and "4 cents—7 for 25 cents," were already attracting attention, when two fighting dogs and a man of peace got mixed up under the wheels. The cart went down and the orange pyramids became bright glowing spots on the asphalt. The small boy was present, and helped himself, regardless of price, and scampered—possibly to be on time for the noon meal. One merchant was stopped by a little well-dressed 7-year-old who had seen the accident. He broke away from his father, with whom he was walking, seized hold of the boy and said: "Say, that isn't yours? It's the poor man's. Put it down." A crowd witnessed the act and showed its approval. Not another orange went astray. The father smiled with pride as he led his little son away, but he had only gone a few steps when a boy shouted after him: "Hey, there! Why don't you buy de kid a orange?" And he did.

To be or not to be? Hully gee! That's the question;

Whether 'tis noble, be, not to set up a tall screen

When you're stung; or put up a scrap against a sea of troubles.

To croak, to pound the feather; or jump in

At the sound of the gong and go to it, kiddo.

And forget your troubles, see? A guy is sure up against it in this world;

And if you jump off the dock, where do you come in?

A lot of boons put up with it because they don't Know where they get off. It's a hard luck story, ho

For most of us; so many things put on the chess;

Our best friends join us, a skip will throw us down;

Hulls in harness pluck us, what's the use?"

D. A. R. CONGRESS

IN THE NATION'S EYE.

Says the Courier-Journal's Washington letter:

"The Dads and the Daughters are amongst us again. Such dashing dads! Such distinguished daughters! And every last lady has a new tid. The annual D. A. R. congress is a hatful, a well as a patriotic assemblage. It is a meeting of millinery from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the Gulf to the Great Lakes. The gallery seats—mostly goddesses, will gaze down from their perches—only delegates are allowed on the floor, when Mrs. McLean's eavesdropers 'they're off,' on Monday—upon an effluence of plumage. The D. A. R. dames and damsels are here in time for the special service for them at St. John's on Easter Sunday, the 19th of April, the date of the battle of Lexington being the significant day with them that determines the week for their annual congress. Mrs. McLean, the affable and approachable, is as busy as a bee with all her preliminary arrangements. She carefully considers every detail of the congress, even to the selection of the young lady pages, an honor distributed with diplomatic caution, the choice to represent as much D. A. R. territory as possible. A strong representation from Kentucky will figure at the D. A. R. congress. The capable state regent, Mrs. Christopher H. Chennault, of Lexington, formerly of Richmond, will arrive at the Edhitt House, the D. A. R. headquarters, on Sunday, accompanied by Mrs. Andrew Scanlan, of Richmond, regent of the Boonesboro chapter and most of the Louisville delegation. Mrs. Chennault was the founder of the Boonesboro chapter of Richmond. She is a graceful magnetic woman as brilliantly identified with the D. A. R. matters as with the national organization. Mrs. Donald McLean has placed Mrs. Chennault upon the music committee of the Seventeenth Continental congress; an honor which the loyal regent of the Boonesboro state at the request of the president-general, signified by arranging to have the immortal melody, 'My Old Kentucky Home,' sung at one of the meetings by a beautiful young vocalist of Washington, of proud old Kentucky stock. Mrs. Sallie Marshall Hardy, vice president general from Kentucky, is expected at her usual quarters at the Edhitt House. Mrs. George H. Wilson, of Louisville, so attractively identified with D. A. R. work at the last congress, the dainty regent of the John Marshall chapter, also arrives in Washington with the Easter lilies on Sunday. Miss Katherine Shelby Todd will be a resident representative from the June Shelby chapter, of Shelbyville. Mrs. John Harlan McDowell, a charter member of the first chapter organized in Madison county, is connected with the Our Flag chapter since her residence in Washington. Mrs. C. D. Cunningham, of Lexington, is here as a delegate to the D. A. R. congress.

"The D. A. R. of the district from the D. A. R. congress will hold a luncheon every day in the vicinity of the Continental Memorial Hall, at the historic old Octagon House, where the treaty of Ghent was signed and where President Madison and the dashing Holly took refuge during the British invasion of 1811. The proceeds will go to swell the Confederate monument fund. Miss Mary Hesh, of Kentucky, and Mrs. Ollie James will be of the receiving ladies at an Easter ball to be given at the Arlington by the D. A. R. chapter, U. D. C."

What Is a Candle Power?

Pretty much everyone thinks he knows what a candle power is—the light given by a single candle, of course. As a matter of fact, candles differ as much in luminosity as light-bulbs, oil lamps or fireflies, and a candle power is not one thing, but half a dozen, according to the country where the phrase is used. In Great Britain and the United States the standard light unit is the amount given by a "spermaceti candle, burning up at the rate of 120 grains an hour, with a flame forty-five millimeters high," etc. In France the standard candle is made of stearine, and Germany's candle was, until a few years ago, paraffine. Now the latter country uses the so-called Hefner unit of light, the amount given by a certain form of lamp burning acetate of amyl.

Another lamp standard, called the carcel, was used in France. In this purified rape seed oil is burned. Because of this unsatisfactory international chaos, it is now proposed that our national bureau of standards at Washington take steps to establish a standard international candle, which would be acceptable to at least nine countries. The joint committee of gas and electrical engineers which is urging this standardization declares that the change could be made with very little disturbance of most of the national standards now in existence. —New York Globe.

RHEUMATISM

BODY RACKED WITH PAIN

No other disease causes such wide-spread suffering as Rheumatism. It is a nerve-racking torture, and so thoroughly does it dominate the system, when it becomes entrenched in the blood, that its victims are usually complete slaves to pain. Rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid in the blood brought on by stomach troubles, weak kidneys, indigestion, and a sluggish condition of the system. The natural refuse of the body, instead of passing off through the ordinary channels of waste, is left to sour and ferment in the system because of these irregularities, forming uric acid which is absorbed into the blood, and Rheumatism gets a foothold. As the blood circulates through the body it deposits the acrid, irritating substances with which it is saturated, into the different muscles, nerves, tissues and bones. Sharp, biting pains commence, the flesh becomes feverish, swollen and tender, the muscles and joints throb and jerk, and the body is literally racked with pain.

S.S.S.

PURELY VEGETABLE

Plasters, blisters, liniments, etc., can never cure the disease; they relieve the pain, perhaps, temporarily, but do not reach the trouble, which is in the blood. S. S. S. is the proper treatment for Rheumatism. It goes down and attacks the disease at its head, and by driving out the poison and acrid fluids which are causing the pain, and strengthening and enriching the blood, cures Rheumatism permanently. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, just what is needed in every case of Rheumatism. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Green River Tobacco Growers Plan of Organization No Part of A. S. of E.

The Owensboro Inquirer says:

The Green River Tobacco Growers' association is a fact. Its organization was effected in one of the greatest meetings of farmers ever held in Owensboro. The morning session was held in the Cha laqua auditorium where a temporary organization was effected, but the afternoon session was held in the circuit court room into which about 500 men were crowded as closely as they could stand. The meeting was comparatively quiet for such a crowd, and business was transacted with dispatch under expert work of Chairman Berry and Secretaries Moseley and V. P. Stetler.

According to a rule adopted in the morning session a vote was to be taken on the adoption or rejection of the constitution, and President Berry was running on schedule time when, after the reading of the constitution and by-laws by Mr. Stetler, F. K. Moseley insisted upon the reading of the amendment which he had prepared, and which had been recommended by the district A. S. of E.

Objections to Amendment.

S. R. Ewing objected to the Moseley amendment which provided for a plan by which a vote could be taken in every county in the district in April, 1909, when, if by a majority vote, it should be decided wise to join the A. S. of E., the organizations should be merged. He made the point of order that the constitution only was to be voted upon. His point was sustained and a vote was taken on the original constitution. The vote was almost unanimous in favor of its adoption, only about twenty-five hands of the 700 or 800 in the court room going up in opposition to it.

After this vote was announced a vote was taken on the adoption of the proposed new constitution and by-laws. Again the vote was practically unanimous, only a few standing when the opposing vote was called for.

The Amendment Again.

Chairman Berry ruled that while the amendment was out of order attached to the constitution which had been submitted by the conference committee he would permit the taking of the sense of the meeting on the amendment separate. This brought it before the house again.

John Cullen spoke against the amendment. He thought it unnecessary and liable to create a bad impression. He added, "I don't ask these people to get into our net. I say we have the home people and the independents with us today and let us keep them with us if we can. We can do it best by defeating this amendment."

J. P. Foster, of Ohio county, moved that the amendment be tabled. J. O. Madden, of Hancock county, seconded the motion, and it was tabled by an overwhelming vote.

Election Processed With.

John E. Minnett, of Hancock county, moved that the election of officers be processed with. J. P. Foster, of Ohio county, seconded the motion. Explanations were made by F. K. Moseley, T. S. Cope, S. R. Ewing and J. H. Obenchain, and then the Minnett motion was carried and nominations for president were declared in order. It soon became manifest that the vast crowd was overwhelmingly for Henry Berry. He was placed in nomination in short and pithy speeches by several from counties other than Davies, and cordial seconds were given by Davies county voices. V. P. Stetler, of McLena county, took the vote and it was unanimous.

Mr. Berry spoke modestly and gratefully in returning his thanks, and promised his best efforts in behalf of the cause.

S. R. Ewing Vice President. J. H. Obenchain, of Hancock county, placed John Cullen in nomination for vice president, but he was decided ineligible, as he is an officer in another tobacco organization.

Geo. F. Lancaster, of Hancock county, made an excellent plea for S. R. Ewing, and nominated him for vice president. He hit the popular chord, and Mr. Ewing was chosen vice president by acclamation.

Governing Board Chosen. The various counties were next invited to caucus and select their members of the governing board. They scattered to different rooms or to different parts of the circuit court room, and soon the following members of the board were reported.

Davies county—T. S. Cope, Joe B. Crabtree, G. A. Weller, Hiram Marksberry and J. A. Jameson.

McLean county—John Cullen and E. B. McEuen.

Ohio county—Joseph Bellmain and S. F. Whiteley.

Hancock county—Henry Shafer and H. D. Brown.

Breckinridge county—B. A. Whittinghill and D. C. Moorman.

The recommendations of the county conferences were received and ratified by the general body. Spencer county, Ind., was to have had two places on the board, and Warrick county, Ind., one under the rules adopted, but the delegates from those counties stated that they were limited by instructions from their county A. S. of E. unions, and they would not name members of the board. However, it is expected that those counties will yet gladly accept the places tendered them on the board and become a useful part of the association.

Address Limitation. On motion of J. H. Obenchain, of Hancock county, it was resolved that the body recommend to board of control that they take prompt steps to make the 10,000 hills to the hand regulation effective.

It was agreed that the board of control meet at 1 p. m. on April 23, at the Columbus hotel for organization, and then another tobacco organization was fully launched, and the meeting adjourned.

Surprise—and Conquest

THE opening of our Special Exploitation Display and Demonstration was a triumph—a complete, absolute triumph! From the opening hours of the morning until the store closed in the evening our Corset Section was thronged with delighted women—and not a single one of this enthusiastic throng failed to be very strongly impressed with the novel and exclusive features of

IRRESISTIBLE and Gossard
CORSETS
"They Lace In Front"

They Lace In Front

The single fact that they lace in front makes them superior to all other corsets. The principle of construction is right—right for grace—right for health—right for style.

They Lace In Front

These corsets sell at the reasonable price of $5 and up. Economical women will find that one Gossard corset at $5 is actually cheaper than 5 ordinary corsets at $2 each.

Every figure—any figure—will fit the "Gossard" Corset. It emphasizes individuality, being the foundation and permitting the final touch of exclusive character to either simple or elaborate toilette. As the most intimate necessary of woman's apparel it meets and joins the wearer's figure in quite a personal way, associating itself so closely and finely that the "Gossard" and its wearer are one. The regard of the wearer for her "Gossard" Corset comes as near true friendship as can exist between animate beings and inanimate objects.

For the woman of generous proportions—the woman over 140—when hips need a refining line, with waist wanting shapeliness, and bust correction necessary, we have the model—one model that will do all these. If one only, either one, of these difficulties is to be improved, we have that model, too. For mademoiselle or madam of slight or slender figure, or just beyond the pale of either, be it a rounded effect that you require, a slight restraint, a direct line for emphasis, a curve for harmony, that model we have conjured for your need; evolved it, not by chance, but by the calculating plans of science, abetted by a wide experience that taught the need.

The Most Beautiful Corset in the World

In corsets, as in the production of anything combining art and beauty, there must be one most beautiful. The Venus de Medici, standing for all ages as the most beautiful representative of the female form, is an ideal figure, a composite of the measurements of many women with as near perfect forms as could be found. As the sculptor worked, harmonizing many beautiful curves, until the one perfect form was chiseled from the marble, so worked Mmes. Margaine La Croix and Foulde de Grasse, measuring here and there, taking this curve and that line, combining for "Irresistible" and "Gossard" all the beauties of figure in the most perfect models of Paris, until they produced one of the most beautiful corsets. And so, too, does every woman who wears this unapproachable corset achieve a beautiful figure, for your lines yield without discomfort and follow the harmonious outline of this perfect production. Can you afford to miss our Special Exploitation Display and Demonstration? Remember, it is under the personal supervision of Miss Carrie Brown, the personal representative of The H. W. Gossard Co., who will be with us only during this week. Come to our Corset Section tomorrow if you can.

Oxford Style That Is Lasting

To be always faultlessly shod is easier than many believe. The whole secret lies in getting shoes that retain their style. Probably the single feature that has made most friends for our shoes is their permanent trimness and good looks. Our Oxfords are made over foot-form lasts that afford perfect freedom to every muscle. The toes lie flat without any budding or cramping. They need no "breaking in" and never wrinkle or burst out.
